To Whom It May Concern:

I have had the opportunity to work with Randy G. Winter Construction during the past 2 years on the renovation of the Corporate Offices for Four Square Churches in La Crescenta. The project involved extensive remodeling of an existing two story building.

Throughout the construction process, Randy maintained a high level of reliability in both project management and supervision. His ability to organize and schedule the various aspects of project development; to interact and communicate objectively with the owner and architect; and to track unforeseen situations until alternatives could be reviewed and the best course of action identified are key assets beneficial to any construction project.

Working with Randy was indeed a pleasure, and I look forward to continuing this relationship in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Hugo Suarez, Architect
